* Lonely Planet Books All $1.00

We are closing out our Lonely Planet books, offering what titles remain to our newsletter subscribers for just $1.00 each! Limit five per customer or address.

Please note when they are gone, they are gone -- no back orders! We will try to take them offline as they are sold out, but be aware there is the possibility of a book listed not being available.

* Thailand

Thailand remains perhaps the independent travelers favorite destination, with its low costs, sandy islands, northern highlands complete with elephants, and more. We hear the Full Moon party is still going strong on Koh Phangan. Visit our Walkabout to the Bridge Over The River Kwai, which really exists but not quite like in the movie ...

* New Pacsafe Products

Outpac Designs, manufacturers of one of our favorite lines of travel products, has introduced Security Neck Pouches and Security Waist Wallets to complement their line of Backpackers and other travel security products. The Neck Pouch and Waist Wallet are much sturdier and safer than regular ones -- even containing wire reinforcement in their straps so they cannot be cut or broken.

* No Shipping Cost Increase

Despite the fact the Postal Service raised their rates on July 1, we are going to try and not raise ours. (This may be difficult, though.)

Shipping will remain $5.00 to the USA or Canada (excluding transformer orders) or free if the order is over $200 or includes a backpack.
