Totally meaningless

what is time?

— the shadow on the dial,

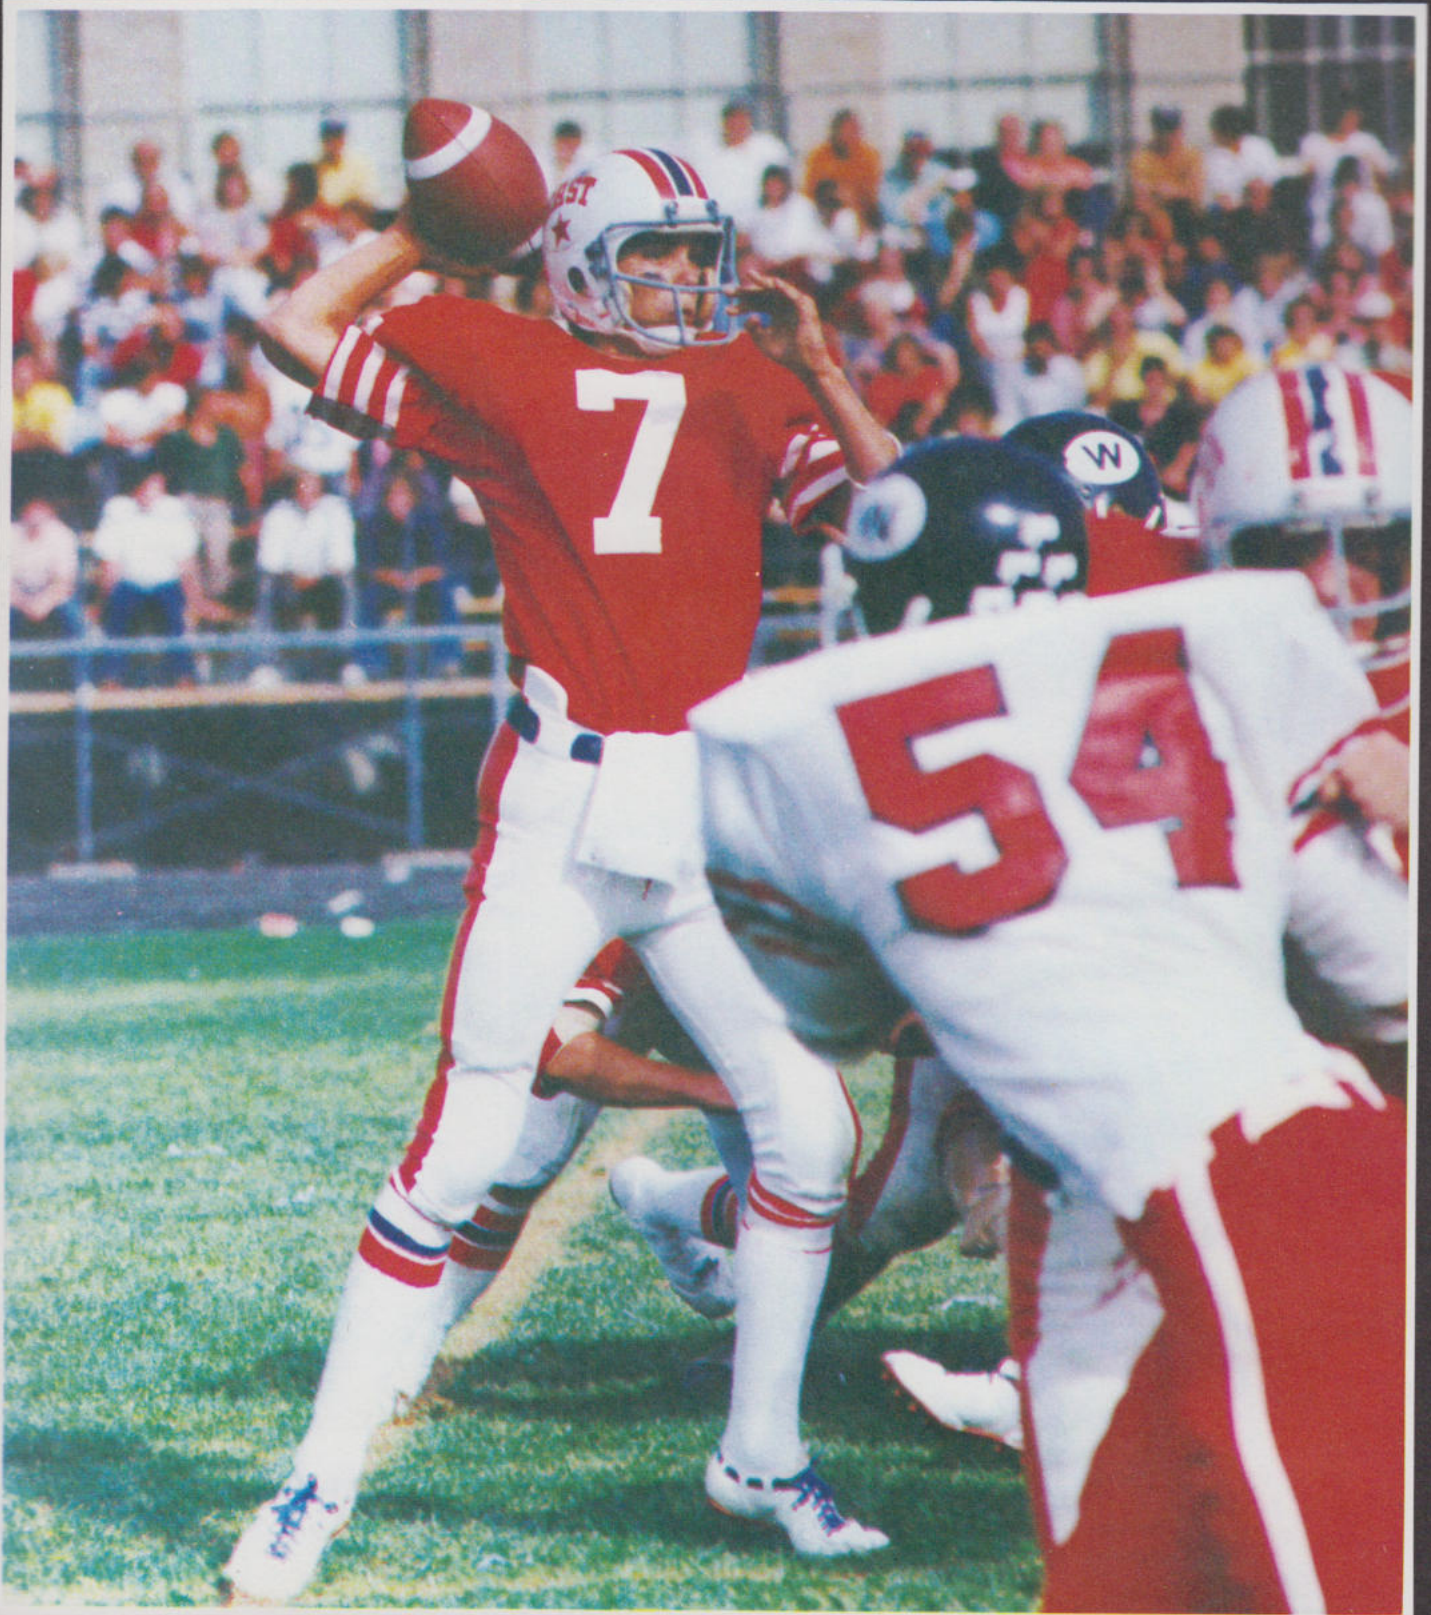

— the striking of the clock,

— the running of the sand,

— day and night,

— summer and winter,

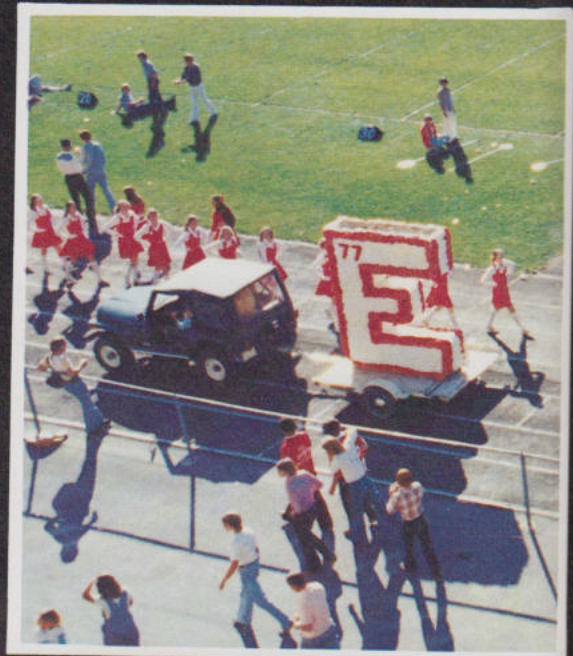

— months,

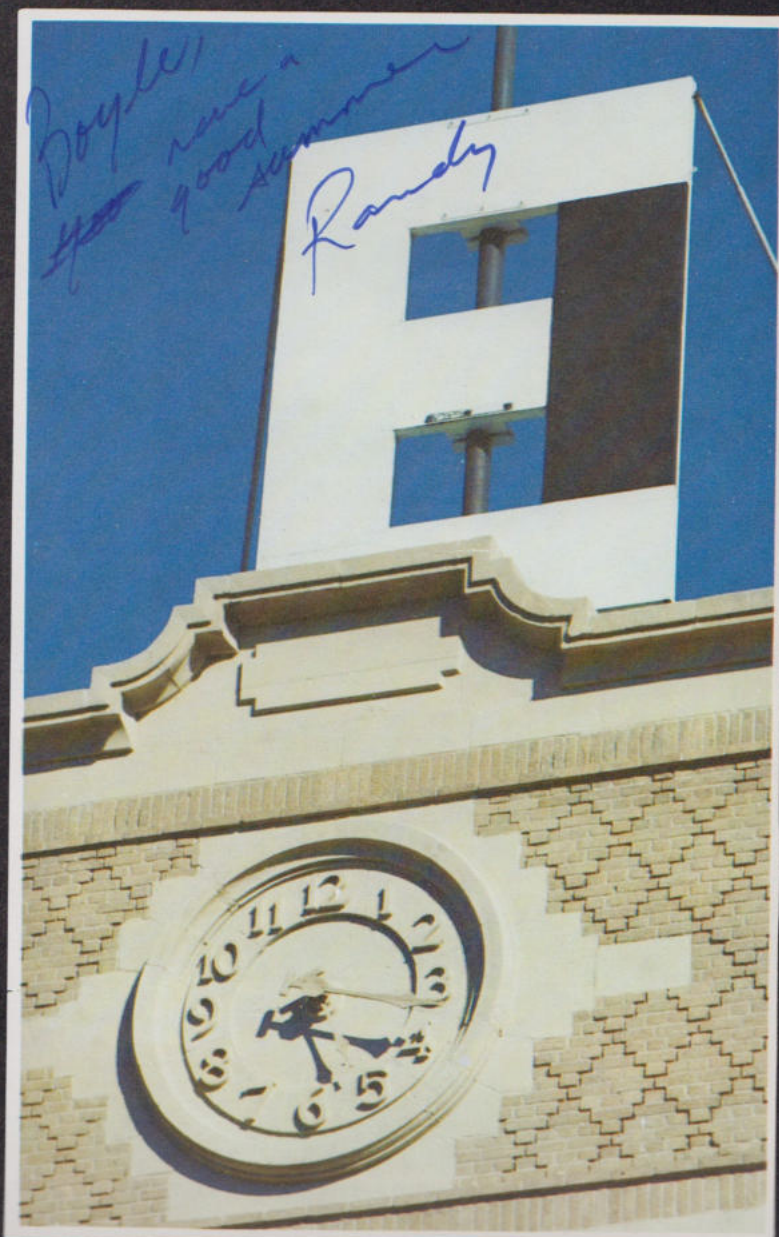

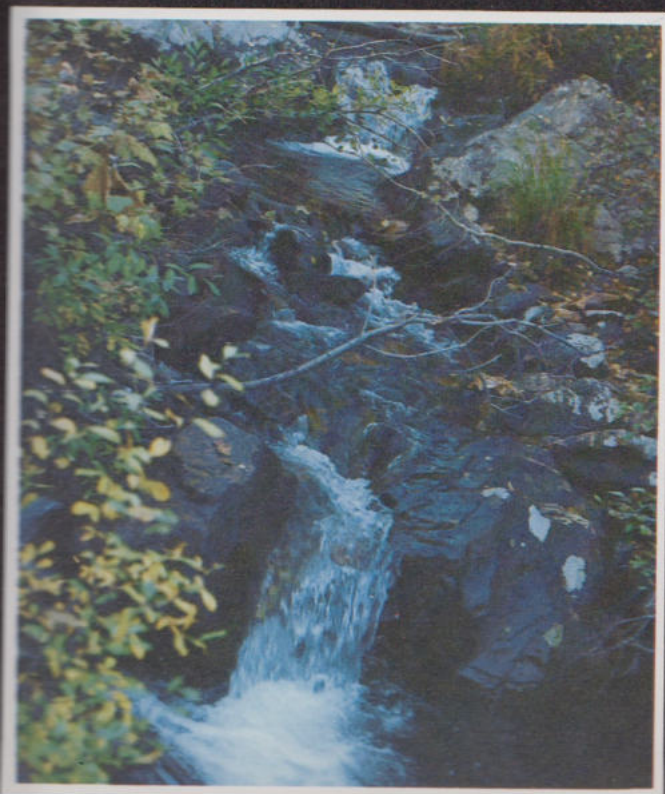

years, centuries?

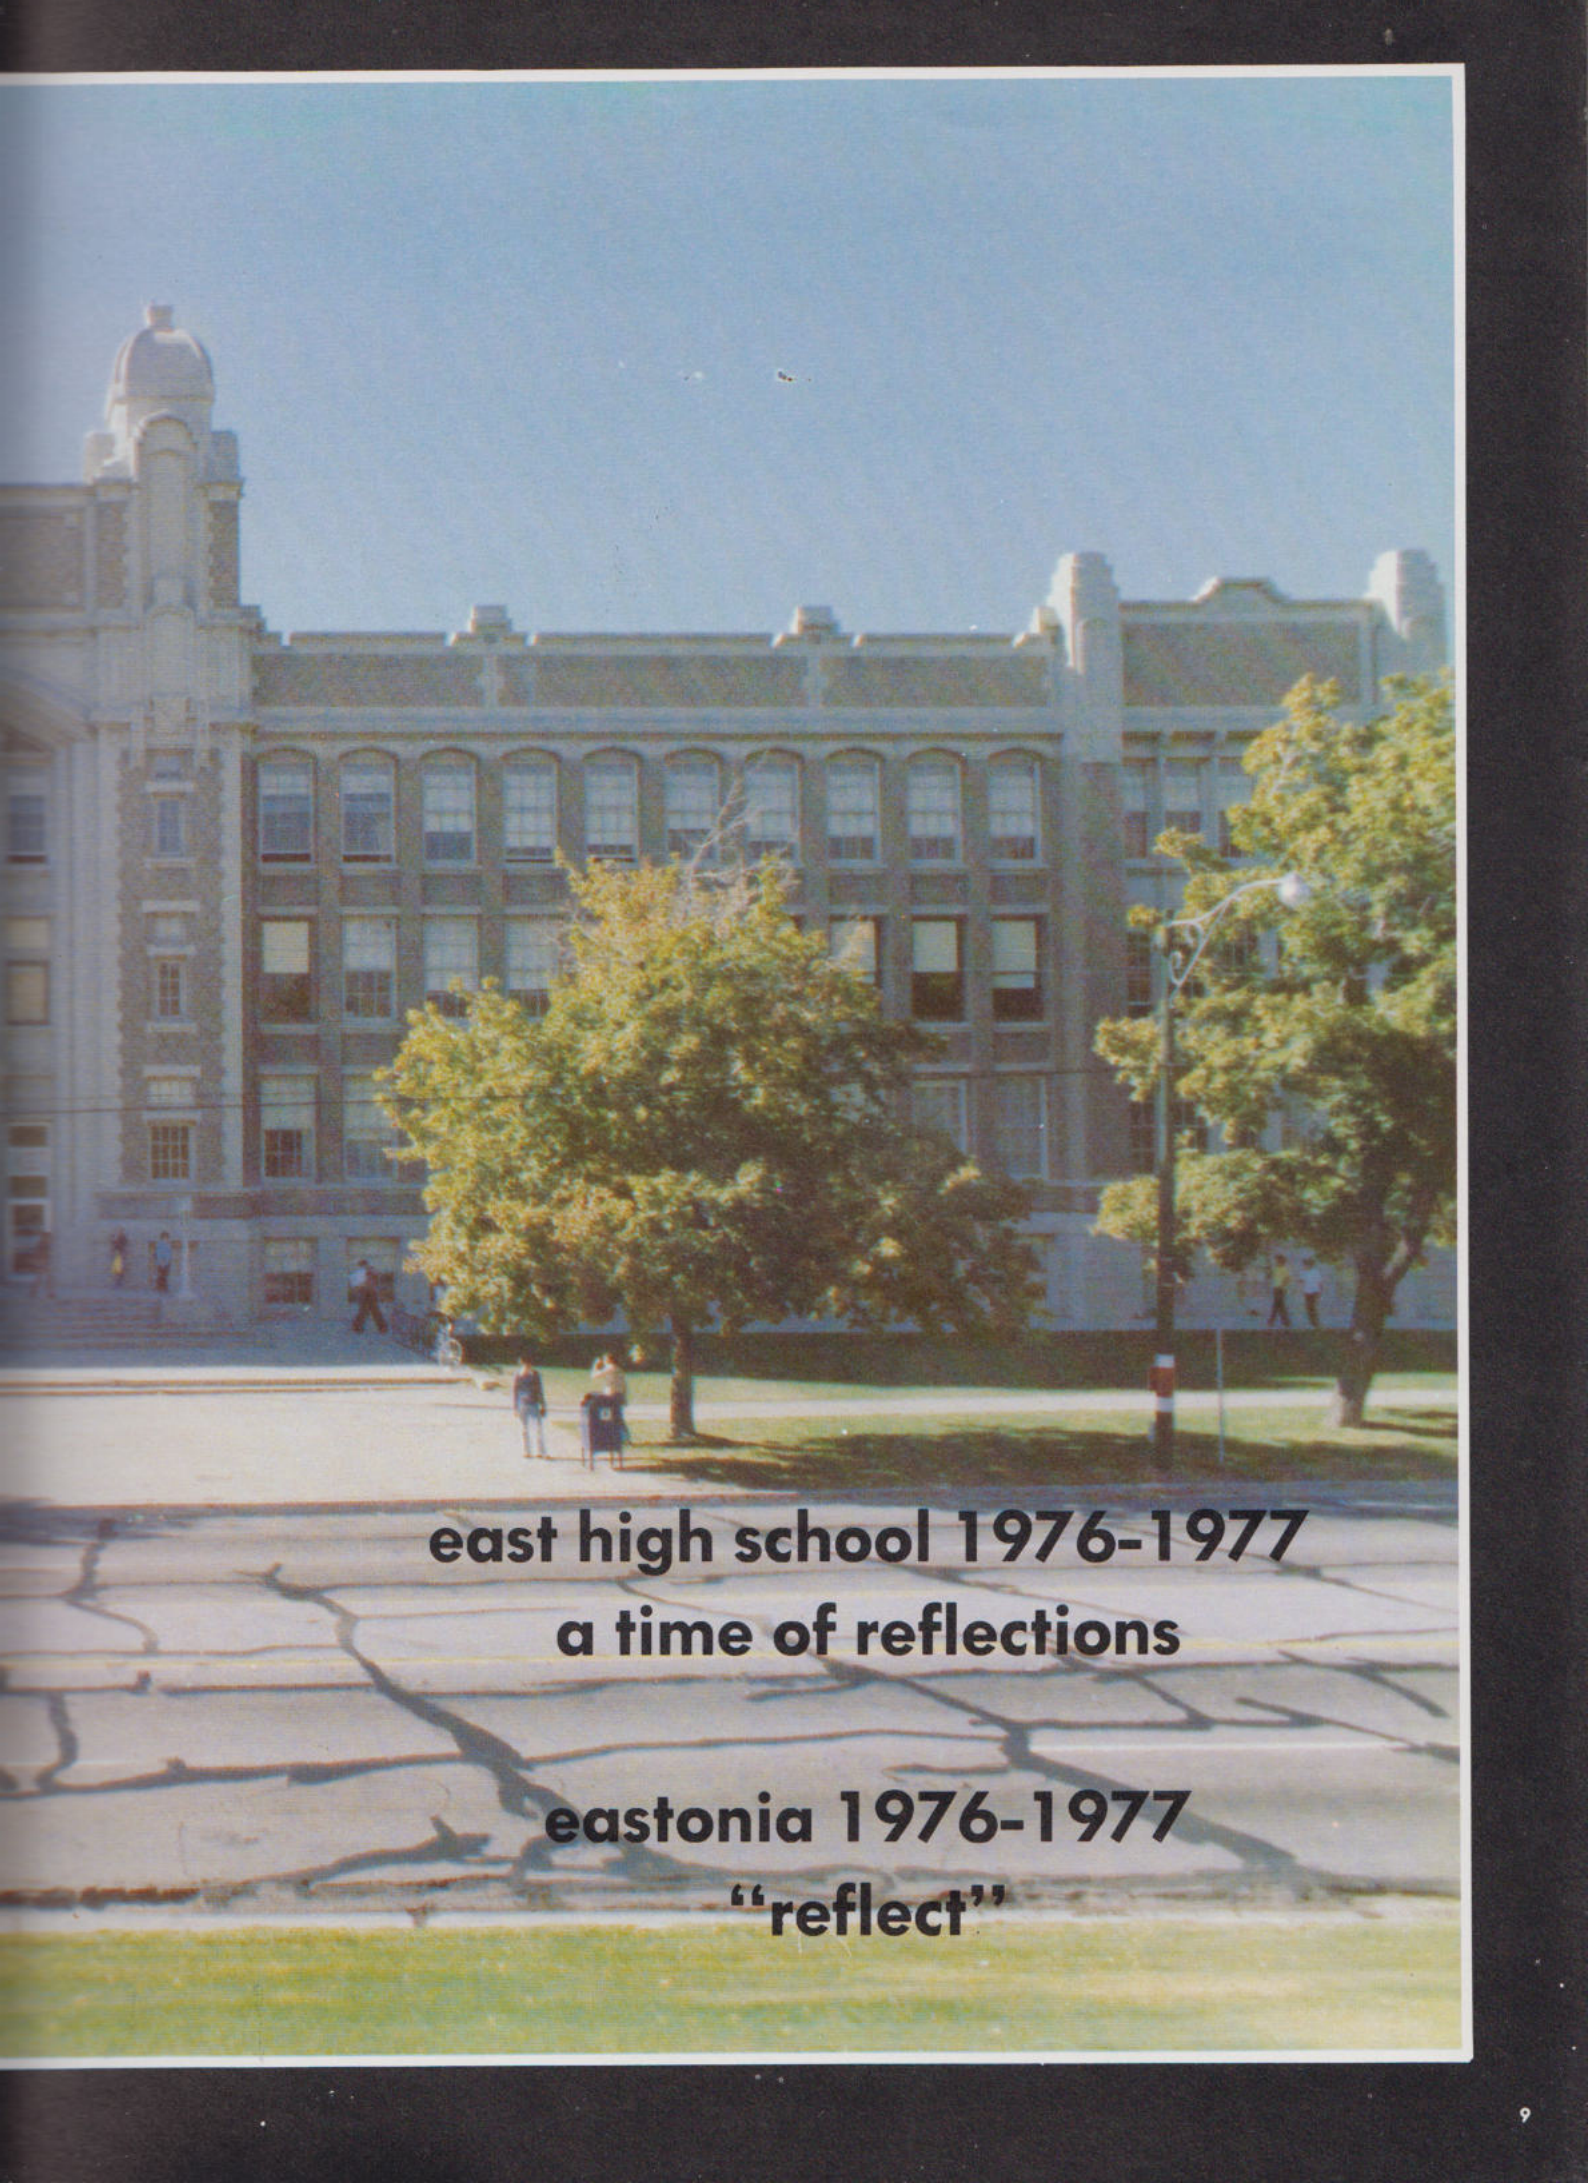

these are but arbitrary and outward signs,
— the measure of time, not time itself.

time is the life of the soul.
if not this, — then tell me,
what is time?

s.a.e. president

Personable . . . Initiative . . . Sincere
. . . Steady

(Ernestly ConcErned)

The respect focused on our studentbody President was trustingly volunteered, never demanded. His avoiding attention and brushing off any personal credit, only made us want to give him more.

Ernie's nonchalance and lack of lectures were characteristic of his determination to succeed in his friendships as well as his duties. And as he succeeded, he somehow influenced everybody with his spontaneous grin, his constant concern, his easy style. When East High united in applause, it was for Ernie - our man, everybody's man. The kind you want to share.

S.A.E. President - Ernest Hewlett

s.a.e. officers

Gusty . . . Vigorous . . . Open . . . Refreshing
(He Enhanced East High)

The bluntness of our Vice President was a pleasant surprise - over and over again. If we had only chance to change things, our chance was John. His abundance of words and speed in delivering them stirred our pride whenever he was pushing for East - always.

S.A.E. Vice President - John Hansen

Enthusiastic . . . Sure . . . Natural . . . Wonder (What a Séc rě tã ý)

The confidence and poise of our secretary subtly calmed us throughout the year. Clair's versatile energy was inspiring if not contagious. With her consistency she obtained our hearts - easily.

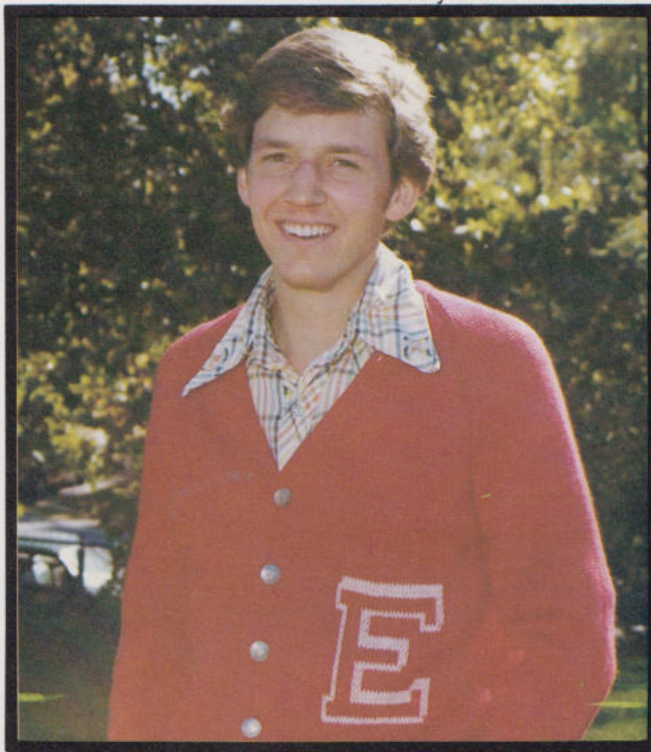

S.A.E. Secretary - Clair McConkie

Creative . . . Sunny . . . Perceptive . . . Gentle
(The one that doz.)

The front hall calendars were characteristic of our talented, thoughtful Historian. Whether producing posters, notes, or smiles, Margie was one to use her potential. She gave her all and all she gave was good.

S.A.E. Historian - Margie Abegg

Friendly . . . Efficient . . . Appealing . . . Objective
(The head of Well's Angels)

Always busy, always smiling, and always there, our Business Manager projected the aura of a young executive. Dave worked diligently enough to provide complete security and cared enough to be our friend - we couldn't ask for more.

S.A.E. Business Manager - David Wells

Wendy Christensen
President

Wendy's Woman. Not once did a whimper or a whine of inferiority escape their lips. No, not even once did they turn to East for the comforting shelter of the male sex. What self-control! What bionic strength. Their pizazz and pep, their class and charisma left behind "Oh wow's" and "What women" wherever they went.

Leslie Swenson
First Vice President

Becky Romney
Second Vice President

Cindy Phillips
Third Vice President

Joni Loyola
Fourth Vice President

Buff's Boys. Not once did a "dame" escape their seducing stares. No, not even once were they dethroned from their pedestals of power. Whether lurking in dark corners, dragging 13th East, or devouring a Federal lunch, their humor, their language, their department was nothing but . . . macho!

spirit

Keeping themselves physically beautiful, the team hopeful, the fans faithful, and the gym full, the varsity cheerleaders carried a lot of weight on their shoulders - in more ways than one!

Schmutz and his seven wonders nurtured East's school spirit when it was low, and generously shared it with the rest of the studentbody when it was high.

pep club

Sparky . . . Sleepy . . . Clap-Happy

The 76-77 Pep Club was neat with their banners and handmovements, but exceptionally messy with their enthusiam. They spilled it on the Junior Class, the studentbody, and even got some on the teachers. Funny thing, none of the custodian even tried to clean it up.

fall sports

Pushing . . . Coping . . . Hoping

Although football was a sensitive subject during the 1976-77 school year, it was sensitive for everyone - not just the team and coaches. When East lost a game, we lost a game. When East won "our own state championship" against Highland, no less than everyone basked in the glow of victory - in fact, it was sweeter than ever before - proving that although the scores were low - we didn't lose.

Deadlines . . . Cooperation . . . Preservation

Our goal: To accurately convey a hundred different shades of fulfilled expectations, victory, achievement; the quick moving days of spontaneous laughter; irrepressible smiles; the satisfying hours of work, study, concentration; the timeless pain that accompanies growth . . . We tried to save the year for you - in case you ever need it.

Concentration . . . Control . . . Accomplishment

East High's Dance Company proved that high art has a definite purpose and place among our students. In fact, the communication that took place during the performances was probably the most effective of the year, as it united the audience emotionally as well as mentally, physically and socially. There remained no contesting the fact that our Company is quality-top quality!

— girls' day —

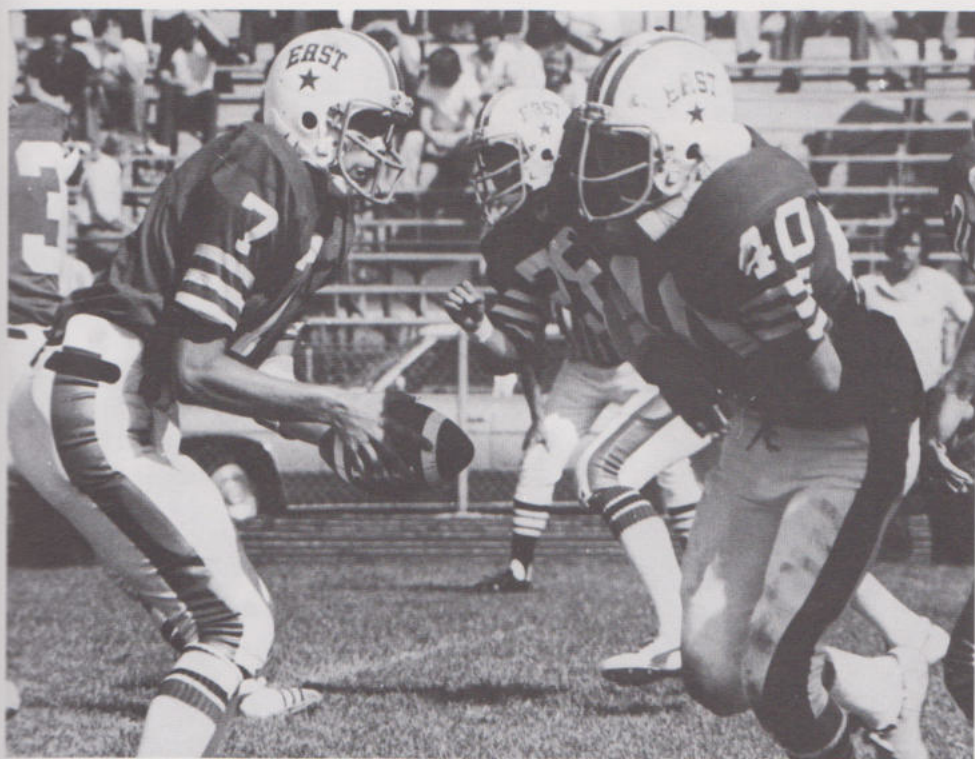

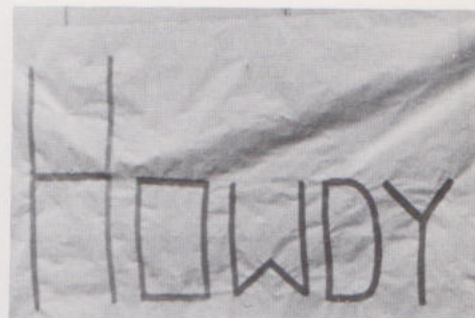

In September East was reborn again and glowed almost as brightly as the friendships grew. The track and tennis teams were "hot", the freshmen, the administration, the Board and a few smiling senior citizens radiated enough warmth to see us securely through the winter ahead.

homecoming

October 15th united past and present Eciders in the warmest welcome home party East has ever had. The outstanding assembly, Victorious game, pride instilling float, and posh dance ended a week full of Dave's original and exciting activities. No one was left uncertain that our East High is well worth the celebration.

student life

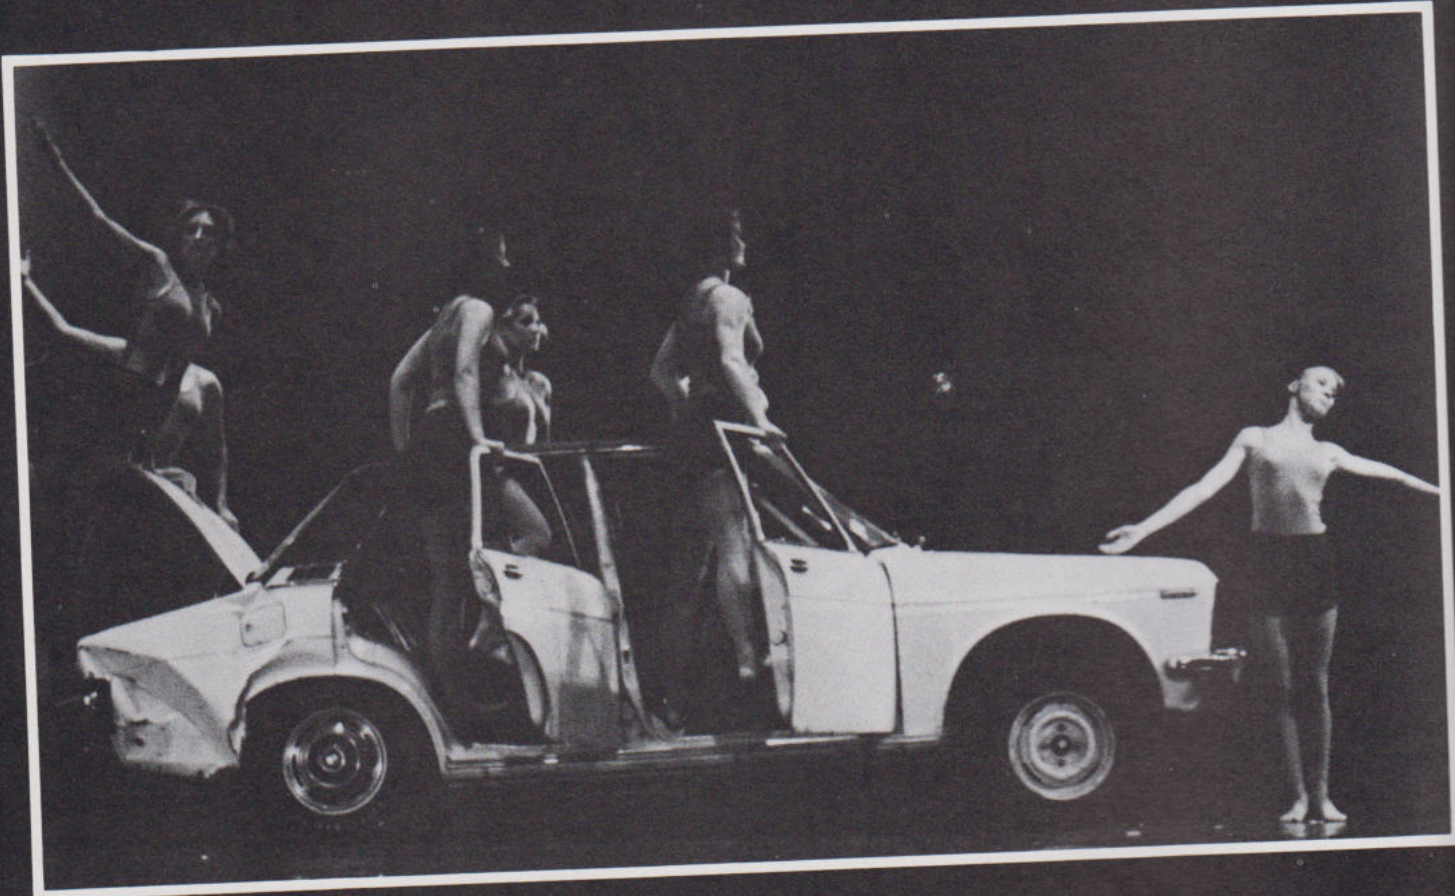

boys' week

The activities of Nov. 15-19 were designed to bring out the Leopard in all our East High males. The beard-growing, and coke-chugging contests displayed the wild side of half our studentbody, only Vandermeade could tame them - and thank goodness! Just in time for the dance . . .

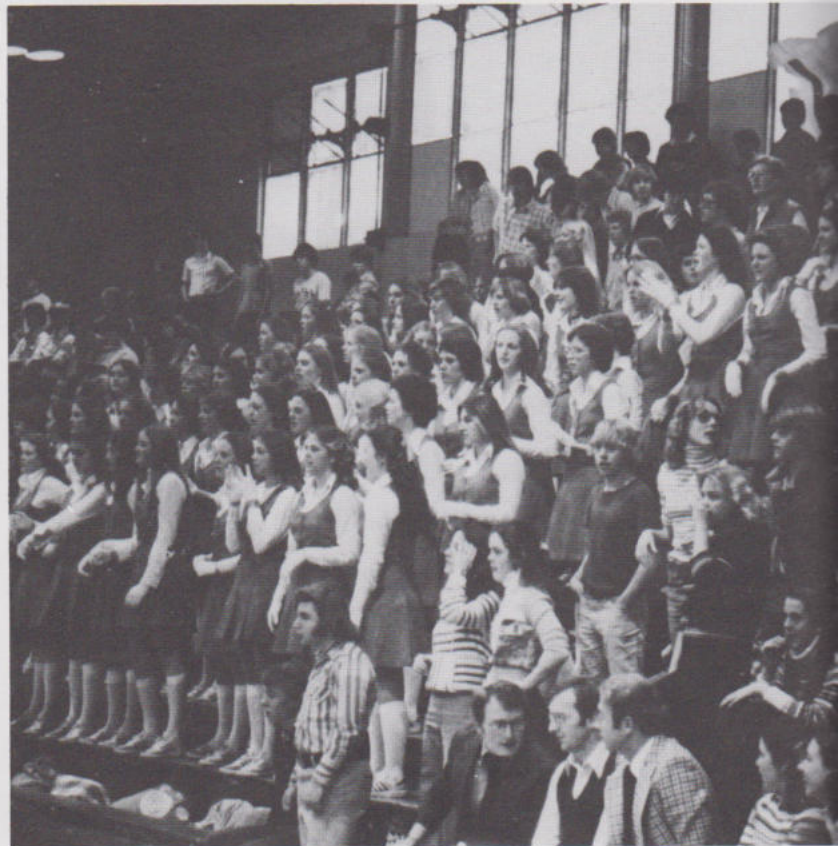

dance concert

winter

Even though the snow was late, we did have winter activities - from the start of girls swim meets to the first big snowstorm in late February. The beginning of basketball season reignited our school and with the musicale came Christmas. The leisurrette's of sr. week and the resurrection of the senior class float boosted our hopes for spring - just in time for the first big snowstorm.

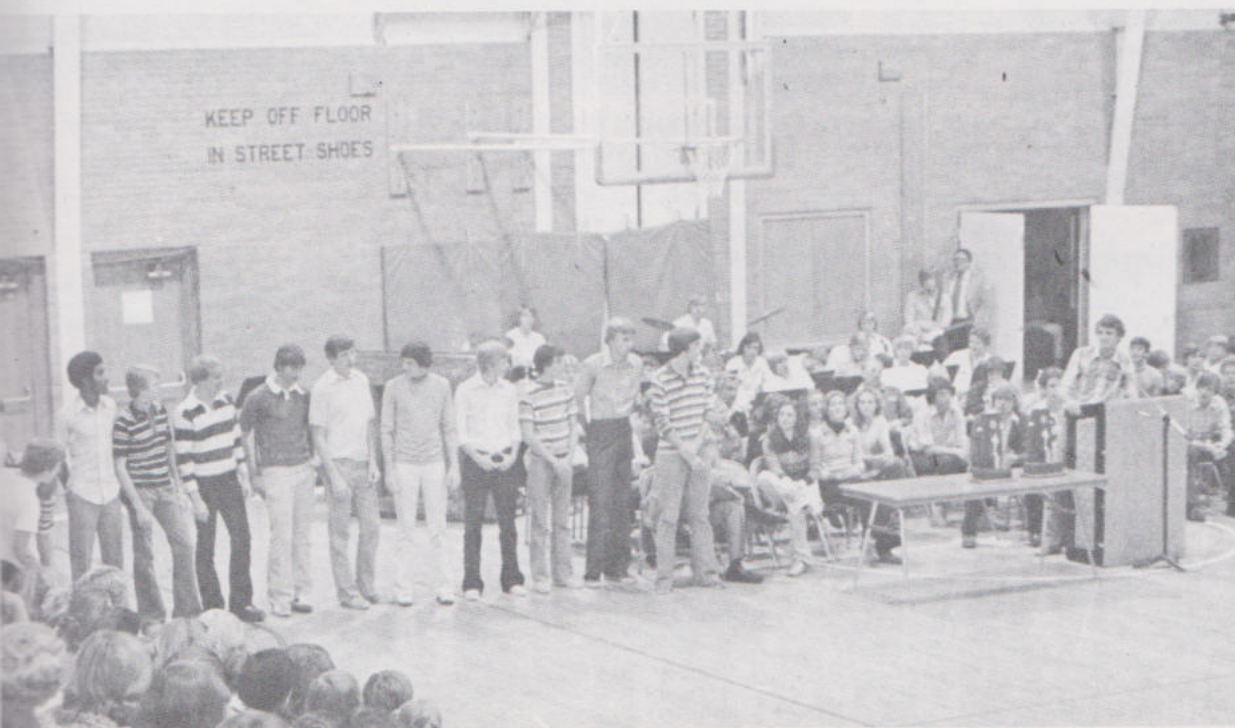

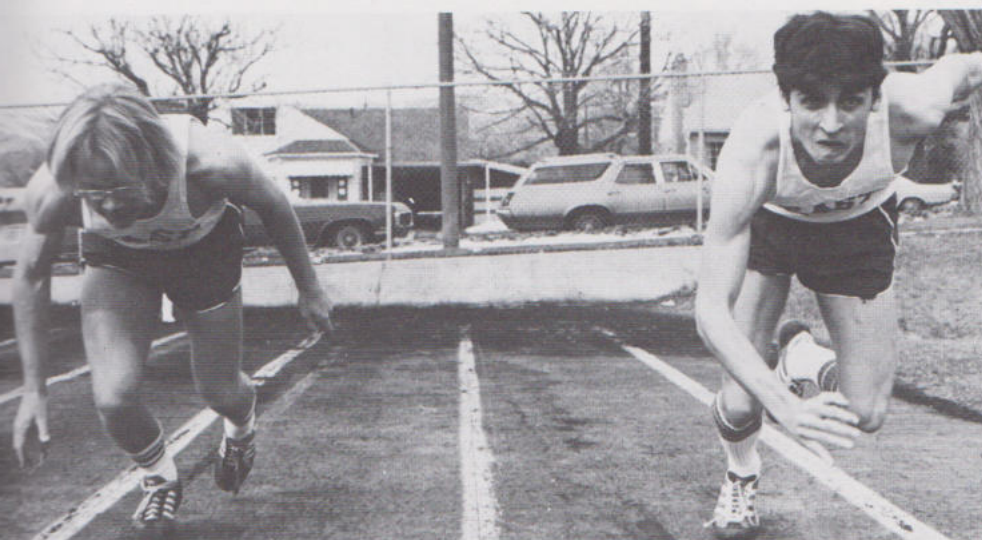

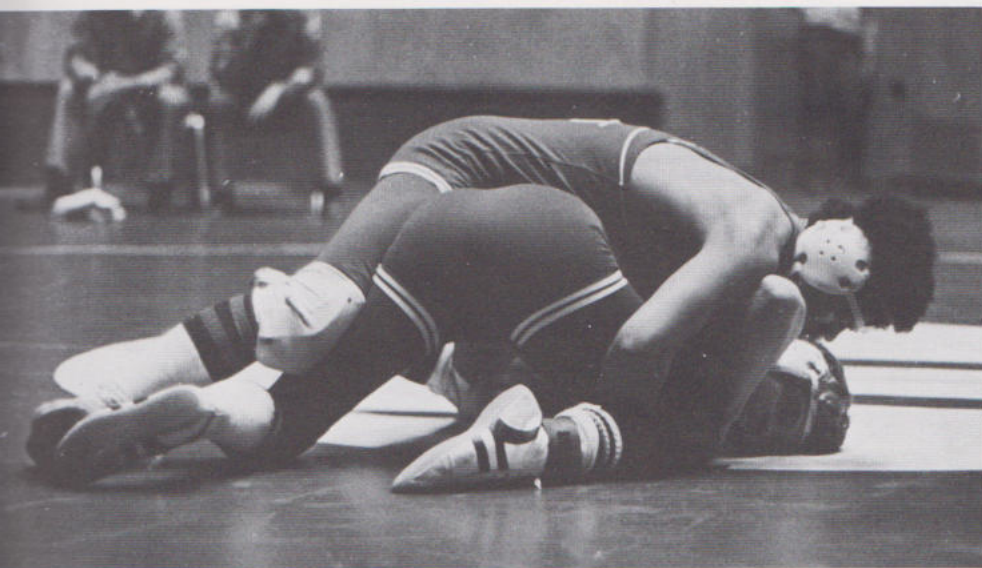

junior week

For a whole week, the #2 class of East moved up to #1. The Juniors eagerly proved their position with an Oscar-deserving assembly, an elegant prom, and a professionally decorated front hall. Such obvious talent was lauded and respected by even seniors . . . for a whole week.

spring

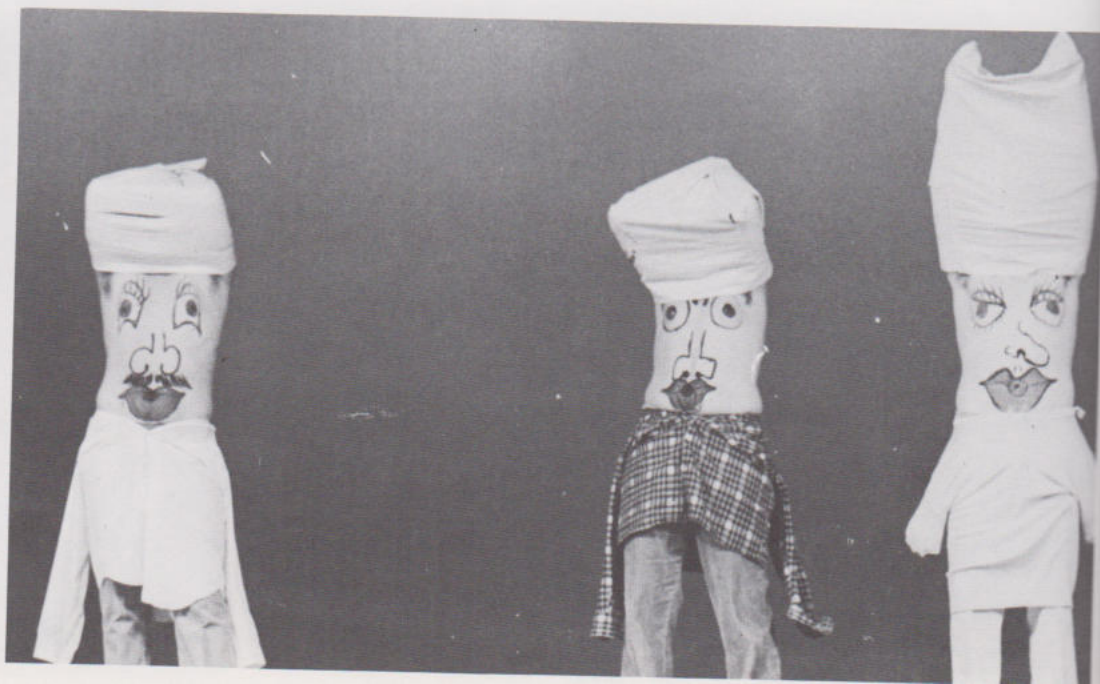

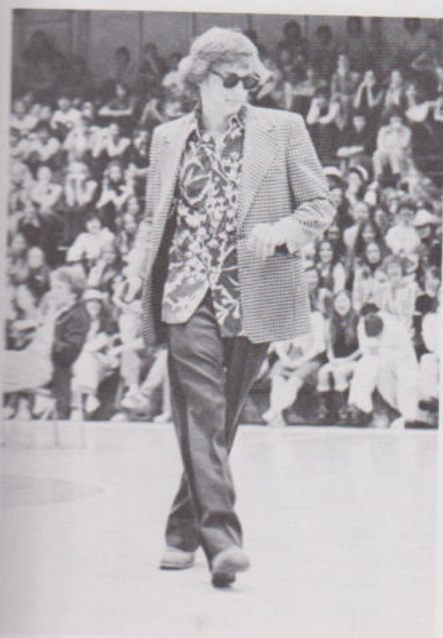

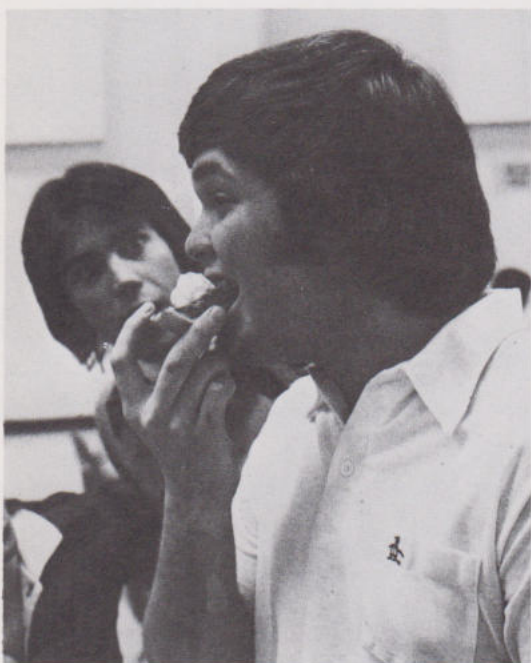

When the sun came out, so did a lot of Eciders, and along with Spring came basketball, wrestling, track, golf, soccer, baseball, swimming, and a lot of victories. The hotter the sun got, the hotter we got, 'til Spring Fever took an epidemic toll in 1977.

senior week

The Seniors bestowed their enthusiasm and talent on the rest of the school with leisure day, the Senior Assembly, and the most elegant prom of the year. No other class could - or ever will - claim six All-Americans, a FOAD chorus, unmatched excellence in music, three belly-dancing fatmen, devoted, dependable officers, and "Maui Kauai Haia Nua With Plantation Hat" . . . The highest class of '77 is definitely of HIGHEST class.

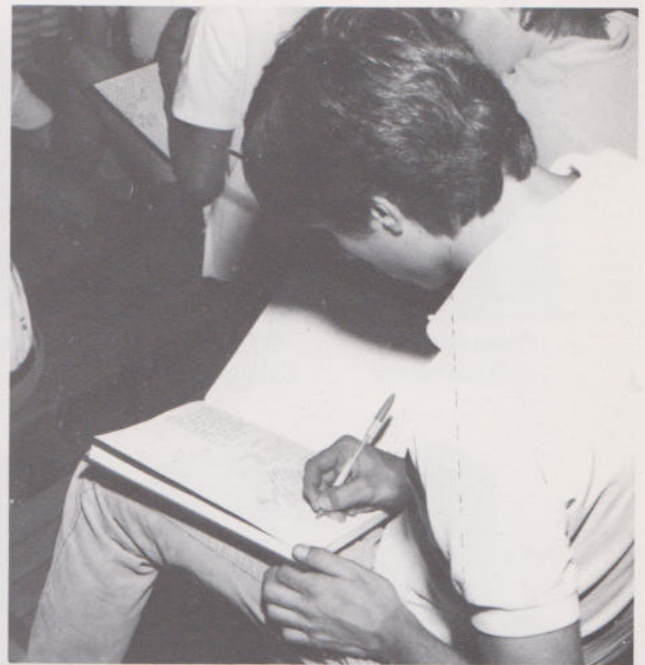

girls' week

Through leg hair-growing, pie eating, arm wrestling, tug o'war, and a delightful dance, the women of East gently but firmly reminded the men and boys of their miraculous versatility. They sweated physically and mentally, excelling, yet all the while maintaining their feminine charm. Tough - yet delicate. Strong yet soft.

the last days . . .

With Lagoon day, the carnival, and year-book signing - the last days of the 76-77 school year were frantically emotional, fun, and fitting - a good ending for a good year.

commencement

Commencement marked the end of the funnest learning we've had so far - but only the beginning of our opportunities to put that learning into use. Although the class of '77 left East . . . East didn't leave the class of '77.

Warm . . . Appreciative
. . . Friendly

With all the enthusiasm of his first year, and all the wisdom of his years' experience Dr. DeVries led the administration and students through a peaceful, yet exciting year.

Whether cheerfully making the morning announcements, cheering at the games, attending a formal with his wife, or publicly congratulating an Ecider's accomplishments, his presence was reassuringly familiar to all - from newest students to the custodians.

Definitely our #1 asset.

Putting their concern into words and their words into actions, this group of insightful leaders did all they could to make the big problems small and get rid of the small ones - for the school.

"The Board" is actually people - people chosen by our parents, to make the crucial decision that either make or break the East High community. They don't look so ominous after all, do they?

custodians — cooks

Tom's meals remain generally unchallenged, but when the choice is between a slurpee and hot meat, potatoes, corn, rolls, milk, and pie, guess who wins? All because of our cafeteria staff - my mother thanks you, I thank you, and my stomach thanks you.

Their devotion silently amazed us all, as over and over again they got rid of snow, dirt, litter, mud, broken windows, odors, smoke, puddles, and anything else that might mess up our campus and our sense of pride. They shined the floors with their mops and shined the days with their smiles.

EASTONIA is finally done
oh boy we sure had lots of fun.
We worked so hard on everything from fall until the early spring.

We worked real hard in 108 and as we did it got quite late.
The photographers did quite a job as you can tell (if you can think of something to rhyme with job and makes sense write-in care of Mr. Young - East High School.)

Speaking of our Mr. Young
We sure do like the work he done.
He made us signs that were so neat so each of us would have a seat.

Cherie and Chris were head of staff they either cried or made us laugh.
They made a yearbook just so fine that everyone would say divine!! (we hope)

The chairmans slaved through thick and thin and worked until each had a grin.
To make a yearbook at its best for who could ever ask for less.

Thanks to you all Eciders for letting us reflect this year.
Eastonia 1977 . . .

Alma, Stop it! We need more pictures, Exuuuse me! THANK YOU, How crude, Hey! You burned the negatives? BECKY!! 6:00, Yes Chris, Final layouts!! I need pages, PLEASE, strips, pick the lock, How soon? I want a witness, give me that tripod! Dartboard, Lori Ann, Bradford, Chew and show, Saturdays we work, can you blow this "guy" up? How do we stand?
Name cards, HELP!!! You egg! You nutrient fossil, 2:00 A.M., I'm so nervous!! No pictures worked? HELP!!

Brad,
You were pretty good at B-ball this year.
Good and lucky! You will have to organize the tank club.
We will rule all. Take it easy.

BRAD THE B-BALL
STUD. WHERE WOULD THE TEAM HAVE BEEN WITHOUT
YOU? YOU'RE GOOD, AS I AM SURE
YOU KNOW. HAVE A GOOD SUMMER

there's something strangely false in our assured, complete good bye, for love's the blood in the flesh of the soul and the soul will never die.

so — friendly, fondly, as I may in God's approving view, I'll call across eternity for messages of you

Brad,
You're a great b-ball player keep it up + pass it to the next year.
Tim going up with you.

without planning,
we all did the same thing with our time —
our lives — this year we laughed, we hurt, we worked, we grew.

what we felt was painfully, joyfully real.

what we have achieved is just as real.

what we imagine makes the future worth living.

Brad...
 Hows it goin Mr.
Basketball! Your really great ya know that. Pep Club will be excited to cheer for you next year. Thanx for everything. Hope to see you this summer.
 Love, Rosey

BRAD, HAVE A NICE SUMMER.
 Dine/ind

so brief an interlude . . .

Yet how warm.

How gentle

The peace it afforded.

I grow sad

In the face of the inevitable

Wondering why it must end

So soon . . .

And yet,

Could it not become like

An eternal round,

And find in its end

A beginning?

Brad,
 I don't know
 you very well
 but next year
 I will. Have a fun summer.

Love,
