

Owners bring expertise from Croatia

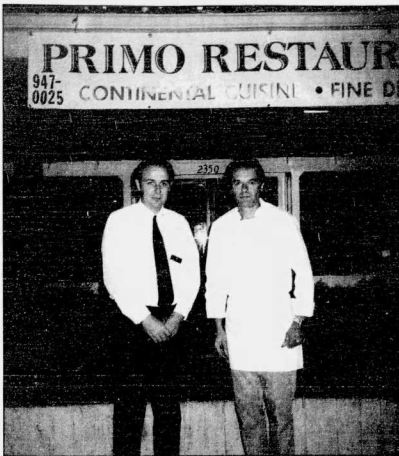

Primo Restaurant offers a taste of Europe

Primo Restaurant at Hillside Plaza is the creation of its European owners, Nevenko and Bart, who have come all the way from their country in the Mediterranean, Croatia. Both Nevenko and Bart have close ties to Italy: Bart's ancestors can be traced directly to Italy, and both Nevenko and Bart speak fluent Italian.

Although they bring their roots from Europe, most of their experience was gained in the United States. Bart worked in the U.S. Virgin Islands for 12 years as a restaurant owner and as an assistant to executive Food and Beverage Director in the famous tourist resort of Frenchman's Reef. Under his hand, the famous Hotel 1829 in St. Thomas gained most of its distinguished reputation, which it still holds today.

His culinary addiction began as a teen-ager when he enrolled in an old-fashioned culinary school in Zagreb, Croatia. He studied there for three years. After graduation, he enrolled in a Hotel Management School and studied for an additional two years under the expertise of several culinary masters. When you come to Primo Restaurant, sample for yourself several of the dishes he masters: Weltsed Spinach Salad, Rigatoni Filled Pomodoro, Sword Fish Livornaise and Tiramisu.

Nevenko is also from Croatia where he grew up in a fishing port. He learned as a small boy how to fish. Nevenko moved to New York and started working in the finest restaurants New York had to offer — Nicholas at 84th Street, Bora at Madison Avenue and Petite Man Mitte. He worked as a captain and catered to the most demanding customers in New York.

At Primo, you can find Bart in the kitchen and Nevenko in the dining room. Their restaurant is quickly becoming famous for their Northern Italian and traditional French entrees. They are not afraid to put their signature on every dish that is served. Come try this restaurant while it is still a secret, and try the incredible food for yourself.

Primo Restaurant is located at 2350 E. Fort Union Blvd (7000 South), easily accessible from I-215.

Price not only attractive item at Factory Fashions

Factory Fashions is a genuine Factory Outlet Store.

Merchandise in the store is offered at extremely attractive prices. These prices are possible because most of the stock consists of style overruns, close outs, samples and some irregular or flawed garments.

Goods are carried to fit everyone from toddlers to men's 5X.

The store is a little hard to find but well worth the search. Factory Fashions is located behind E. and J. Manufacturing at 8000 South and Redwood Road in West Jordan.
